

The Botanic Gardens

When we went to to the Botanic Gardens we saw lots of insects in the Minibeast Garden. I liked the honey bee. The honey bee is an insect. It has three body parts and it has six legs and four wings. It has a fat, furry body and it has two antennae. It has a stinger and it stings when it gets frightened. It makes honey from the nectar in the flower. The bee goes to the flower. It drinks the nectar. It goes back to the beehive to spit out the nectar. The bee covers the nectar with wax. Then it changes into honey. I liked learning about the honey bee.
